

*Experience the Ultimate
Corporate Learning Program*

Achieve greater effectiveness in communication.

Develop more dynamic leadership and management skills.

Increase your potential while balancing work and home life.

Links to Leadership™ is a specially designed learning experience that influences participants in the management of time, talent, team, budget, resources and risk. Unexpected obstacles present learning challenges during the course of play. The game is rounded out with a choice from over a dozen additional experiential training programs, lectures and feedback sessions. These programs are tailored to suit the particular culture indigenous to your company. All sessions are led by noted psychologist, talk show host and facilitator, Dr. Jerry Schmidt, Ph. D. and his team of experienced professional trainers.
